Kirt Rosenbaum Agency, LLC is your local Farmers Insurance Group Agency offering a full range of insurance services and products for property owners, business owners, and tenants alike. With a new office in the heart of Princeton, they look forward to offering intelligent insurance guidance to all members of the local community. They can represent you, the client, for all your property, casualty, life and Small Business insurance needs.

Kirt Rosenbaum has nearly 10 years of experience analyzing his client's portfolios to ensure that their insurance needs are understood, and their families and assets are adequately protected. He has developed his business through trusting relationships, referrals, and hard work.

Through Farmers Insurance Group, the agency has access to a comprehensive array of insurance products. This enables their agents to customize individual policy packages for each unique client.

They have chosen to work directly with The Bank of Princeton's Nassau Street branch because both share the same valued approach to keeping the individual client in the forefront of all business decisions.
