What is a winning team? Innovation tailored with unblemished tradition, high-quality relations, well-defined communication and a desire for excellence. It is in this tradition of excellence that Robert Rahl, CPA, and his team of professionals bring to each and every accounting and tax client

Robert Rahl, CPA, with over 25 years of experience has a lengthy history of cost-effective, high quality accounting and tax services. Over five years ago Rahl & Associates was formed by Rahl now operating in Yardley, PA serving clients in the NJ and PA marketplace. With a dedicated staff of eight professionals, Rahl & Associates provides a wide array of services to clients in a variety of industries with sales ranging from that of a mom and pop operation to multi-million dollar entities.

Rahl & Associates take much pride in assisting their clients by achieving the highest degree of personalized service in the areas of general accounting, taxation, business and strategic planning, outsourced CFO services, as well as a multitude of other complex services by achieving their goals in a proactive manner. Rahl and his team are intricately involved in all aspects of client matters, much like a quarterback taking control of a client's financial matters and directing their needs amongst other professionals. It is this very method of communication which has allowed Robert and his clients to benefit from the unique services and client relations that the Bank of Princeton brings to their customers.

A team approach, The Bank of Princeton not only serves the needs of Rahl & Associates, but it is this comfort level that has Rahl & Associates recommending the highest level of referrals to Nina Melker and the Hamilton Branch team at The Bank of Princeton.
